CREATIVE DIRECTOR - ART DIRECTOR

BIO

I am a freelance creative director based in Brooklyn with experience at some of the world's best creative agencies. I have worked across a wide variety of clients and mediums and have contributed to projects as an art director, senior creative, and creative director as half of a writer/art director team and solo. As a full-time employee I led teams and contributed to effective, award winning work. I have a passion for mission-driven projects that become part of culture and covet opportunities to do this kind of work. While freelancing as a creative, I have also freelanced as a creative recruiter to help agencies and brands find great talent across departments.
